

ALCON,

SUBJECT: Online Master's Program available; application deadline August 18

Are you a captain interested in earning your master's degree from a regionally accredited university? If so, then submit your application for the Online Master's Program (OLMP).

On September 7, Headquarters Air Reserve Personnel Command will convene a selection board to choose the most qualified candidates for the OLMP. This board will evaluate applicants based on the "whole person" concept, which includes depth and breadth of military experience and demonstrated leadership potential.

This online graduate program lasts 24 months and consists of six, eight week terms. Candidates should expect to spend about ten to 14 hours per week on course work and study. Additionally, students are expected to participate in threaded forum discussions throughout each term.

To apply for this opportunity, submit the attached form, Application for Online Master's Program, to your servicing detachment by August 18. The full application process can also be found on the Force Development myPers page: https://gum-crm.csd.disa.mil/app/answers/detail/a_id/14251/p/16,17/c/549.

Thank you for your service to our great nation!

CHRISTOPHER E. CRONCE, COLONEL, USAF
Commander, HQ Individual Reservist Readiness and Integration Organization
